

Collaborative Concepts

Collaborative Concepts is a not-for-profit arts organization based on the idea that professional artists working together can achieve artful accomplishments and provide the community with exceptional cultural experiences. Since its founding in 1999, Collaborative Concepts has curated more than 40 exhibitions in galleries and outdoor settings in the Hudson Valley.

For its sixth season, Collaborative Concepts at Saunders Farm invited local, national, and international artists to place sculptures throughout 120 acres of an historic farm in Garrison, NY. Located across the Hudson River from West Point, the rolling hills and wooded glens of Saunders Farm culminate in panoramic views of the Hudson Highlands. Black Angus cattle can be seen grazing peacefully in stone walled pastures. Nearly 60 site-specific artworks were chosen to complement the farm's spectacular vistas. Performance art and live music are offered at two seasonal receptions. All the sculpture installations are temporary, and many works are for sale. The exhibition is free and can be viewed from 10 am to dusk, Sept. 3 until Oct. 30. Visitors should dress appropriately for a walk in the country.
